CiTR is the University of British Columbia’s campus radio station. Our mandate is to provide alternative, informative, and campus/community-based programming to the UBC community and beyond.
We broadcast to over 14,000 listeners week plus. Our listenership is one that is unique, diverse and has a strong connection with programming based around the local community and the University of British Columbia campus.
We are a valuable service to UBC Students and the University community:

- as a media outlet that is accessible to everyone who wishes to participate, empowering people and organizations on the fm dial

- as a place where both students and community members can develop both professionally and personally
(some of the) Opportunities at CiTR

- Opportunities for student leadership
- Live broadcasts and news coverage
- Broadcast and journalism training
- Access to recording facilities
- Sound System and DJ Rentals
- Free public service announcements
- Event sponsorships
- Personal and professional development in a non-profit environment