Article 1. Preamble

Issue 9 of the Alma Mater Society’s (AMS) 2016 Governance Review raised the concern that some groups felt they were not adequately represented on Council. Out of the surveyed respondents, some felt not all groups on campus were provided with appropriate channels for representation. Section 3.3.2 of the Governance Review entitled Governance Practices made eight recommendations to improve the operational efficacy of Council. In light of Issue 9, Recommendation 14 suggested the AMS consider “creating Officers within council that represent specific groups on campus that do not currently have direct representation” [1]. In March 2016, three caucuses were created after Governance Review Implementation Committee (GORICOM) explored options to implement Recommendation 13. The Student Issues and Equity Caucuses were created as a working group of the AMS Advocacy Committee.
