Key Performance Indicators

A performance indicator or key performance indicator (KPI) is a type of performance measurement.^[1] An organization may use KPIs to evaluate its success, or to evaluate the success of a particular activity in which it is engaged. Sometimes success is defined in terms of making progress toward strategic goals,^[2] but often success is simply the repeated, periodic achievement of some level of operational goal (definition from Wikipedia)

Balanced Scorecard

The balanced scorecard (BSC) is a strategy performance management tool - a semi-standard structured report, supported by design methods and automation tools, that can be used by managers to keep track of the execution of activities by the staff within their control and to monitor the consequences arising from these actions.^[1] (definition from Wikipedia)

4 Pillars
