Committee's and Submissions

Brewery Committee

- Yiqi (Mitchie) Zhao
 - I am from Food, Nutrition and Health Program in the Faculty of Land and Food Systems, and we had courses about agriculture, food producing and sustainability such as LFS 100 and LFS 150. After taking those courses, I have learned knowledge about food producing and proceeding, as well as environmental sustainability. As a result, I would like to apply the knowledge through this job.
I am a volunteer at the UBC Farm, and I am familiar with plants and animals. According to the AMS Sustainability Project website, I learned that the project includes green building and seed hub, which interests me a lot. I want to continue working with plants and soils and helping make our campus more green.
For the Brewery Committee, since my major will be Food Science, I want to combine my work and major. I also want to learn more about food services through this position, get involved in the community and help develop AMS at the same time.

- Rukhsar Momin
 - I am interested in Budget committee due to my prior background of Accounting and Finance and current program of study that deals in financial management. It includes the aspect of effective budgeting and planning. I want to execute my academic knowledge in a relevant work role to provide the benefit to AMS and enhancing my experience as well. I am an International student from Pakistan therefore I want to join AMS to enhance my networking with the people out there. I have an excellent communication and interpersonal skills.

 - I am deeply interested in financial matters and would like to have my voice heard regarding the future direction of the AMS. The distribution of surpluses and responses to deficits within the AMS is a matter of great interest to me. I am particularly excited by the opening of the new businesses and operations within the Nest, as well as the impact this will have on the expanding and rebranding AMS' revenue and image. Finally, the scope and depth of the AMS' finances is unlike any of my previous financial experience and presents an refreshing and challenging involvement.

- Soham Parelkar
 - My name is Soham Parelkar. I am interested in joining the Education Committee. Having experienced a university wide labour union dispute at the University of Toronto that gravely affected my educational experience, I want to ensure that my new university - UBC - has a strong academic disruption policy. Ensuring that a policy does not infringe on students' rights is very important to me. Unfortunately, I will not be able to attend the AMS Council as I have summer school during that time. I will be available to work for the Education Committee until Mid-August as I will be out of the country after that period, until early september.

Student Life Committee: SLCC

- Alexander Remtulla
 - My name's Alex Remtulla and I'm running to be a member-at-large on the Student Life and Communications Committee.
I bring with me a great deal of experience in marketing and event management, having worked for various student-life groups around campus, from REC to Campus and Community Planning, as well as for off-campus events like the Vancouver Marathon and this year's FIFA Women's World Cup. I also sat for the past year on the SLCC where I chaired the largest-ever Faculty Cup and have already begun work on next year's event.
I also work as the Executive Projects Assistant overseeing student life initiatives. It's an area I'm both passionate and knowledgeable about and I would love to continue my work with the Committee in order to help make an impact on student life around campus.

- Sarina Chen
 - Attending UBC in this past year has reignited my awareness and passion for sustainability. Things as simple as having waste sorting bins around the campus has impacted my life in a significant way. Now I can no longer throw away any garbage freely without feeling a bit guilty for not recycling properly. It is small moments like this that reminded me of the importance of raising awareness for sustainability. As an immigrant who have grown up in China, the environmental challenges that humans face today are much more real to me for that I have experienced what it is like living in a developing country, where drinking water must be purchased and where blue sky is a rare treasure. I want to be a part of the Sustainability Projects Committee because I want people to become aware of how fortunate it is to live in a country with such vast amount of natural resources, and how instead of taking advantages of it, we should take on the responsibility of protecting these resources by living sustainably.
 - Thank you for your time and consideration.
- Peter Siegler
 - I am interested in becoming more involved in the UBC community at large in as many ways as possible, and one way in which I wish to do so is by becoming an external correspondent to the AMS. I am also largely concerned with issues related to sustainability, and have tried to keep a focus on sustainable practices while working with the groups in which I am involved on campus, such as the Land and Food Systems Undergraduate Society. I would be available to work as a student-at-large for a long period of time, and am willing to commit to this position until April, 2016 as requested. Because of my desire to involve myself long-term with on-campus positions related to sustainability, I feel I would be a good fit for one of the students-at-large on the Sustainability Projects Committee through AMS.

University & External Relations Committee: UNECORN

- Bree Zhang
- Gregory Woollgar
- Kathy Kyungeun Lee
- Evan Gibbard
 - As the recent NDP electoral revolution in Alberta has shown, the political policies of a region can shift in a moment. The University of British Columbia (UBC) actively engages with different levels of government, allowing it to make informed and inclusive decisions to maximize the quality of life for its students and employees. As I enter my second year, I would be honored to serve on this committee. By applying organizational and communication skills that I have developed through past leadership positions, I would effectively represent the interests of UBC and help the University position itself to thrive.
- Abdullah AbdulSattar
 - My name is Abdullah AbdulSattar and I am extremely interested in being a part of the AMS committee. I am enthusiastic for the areas of sustainability projects committee and University & External relations committee. With my prior experience as the President of Pakistan student association for 2 years, I have developed the interest to work for the greater good and hence want to be a part of the AMS committee and give back to the UBC family. Please consider me for a position in the committee.
- Dario Franco Garousian
- Jon Parnell
- Nicholas Fielden

- María de Fátima Lazo
- Delaney Griffiths
 - I am a recently finished first year Arts student here at UBC. I am very passionate about local and global politics, with aspirations of a major in International Relations and ultimately a career in International Humanitarian Law. Due to my passion for justice and education, I believe I would be an excellent member of the University and External Relations committee. I will gladly lobby to improve the lives and university experiences of my fellow classmates. I have previously been a Student at Large member of Legislative procedures (this past spring), and have held various leadership positions throughout my high school education in organizations which raise funds and awareness to worthwhile causes.
