The SLCOMM committee from this academic year has finished our tenure. We held our last meeting on Thursday the 28th of March. Harsev is the incoming committee chair and have been transitioned as of April 2, 2011. Block Party absorbed a large bulk of our time as there is a lot to discuss and decide on and it is an exciting topic for the committee.

Services Review:

Sebastian Silley and Caroline Wong have been working on this project. Recently they are meeting to compile all the data into a useable and informative format for the to be hired consultant. This project is essentially complete in terms of our involvement.

Block Party:

The committee is moving forward in talks with Anna Hillar discussing and finalizing ideas for Block Party and how to make the event all it can be. Posters have gone out and all undergraduate societies have taken about 50. Two separate postering parties were coordinated. The results of our efforts have been shown as the event is now sold out for the first time in at least 3 years. There are many great activities and attractions set up to activate the space and draw in the crowds earlier in the day

I am now finished as Committee chair and wish the next committee the best of luck.
