

Executive Updates from the Office of the VP Administration (Oct. 28th)

☐ Clubs

- New clubs application recommendations have been finalized by the Clubs and Societies Working Group and have been submitted to the Operations Committee for constitutions.
- We are in the final stages of confirming participants for our first workshop, focused on brand image and marketing, that will begin our portfolio's skill-oriented programming series for AMS Clubs and Subsidiaries. The eHub has been extremely helpful in this collaboration and we are excited for the value that this will add to these organisations and our society as a whole. Groups and companies we are currently in conversations with include: RISE, E@UBC, Sendinblue, Facebook, Hootsuite, Lululemon and Daily Hive.

☐ Hatch

- Our second exhibition is currently underway and is mainly being showcased through our Hatch Website. I urge all councillors to take a look at said exhibition to engage in the discussions happening around them on our Instagram page as there are some really exciting and interesting things to engage with.
- The exhibition concludes with a live performance artwork and digital dance party over Zoom on October 30, 2020 from 8:00pm-10:00pm PST, that provides an opportunity to bring together the exhibiting artists' research creations, and their audience's revelations into a fun, critical, and magical environment.

☐ Sustainability

- Kindly resort to our October Updates for a full run-down of our progress thus far
- Highlights include: The commencement of our monthly AMS Sustainability Symposiums, an AMS Carbon Management Proposal from Offsetters Canada, preliminary consultation feedback on the operational framework of the ISC, updates on the outstanding Indigenous coordination section of ASAP and many others.
