

The Operations Committee met one time in October. In addition to approving the agenda and minutes, the Committee covered the following items:

East Side Furniture Discussion

Michael Kingsmill, the Project Manager, was invited for a discussion on the subject of the East Side Furniture Project. After exploring the possibilities of putting in tables with or without dividers, the Committee came to a general agreement that half-dividers would be the best option. This is because half dividers add a more individual type of study space that does not currently exist in the Nest while still giving people the option to interact and work in groups.

Vice-Chair Appointment

Ben Du was appointed Vice-Chair of the Operations Committee.

Operations Committee Manual Line Suspension

In order to align with Council's recent decision to no longer require the Vice President Administration to Chair the Operations Committee, the Committee voted to suspend a portion of the Operations Committee Manual that required the Vice President Administration to be the Chair.

Club Applications Review

The Committee began reviewing Club applications and, on the recommendation of the Clubs and Societies Working Group, held further discussions on certain clubs that the Working Group refrained from recommending/not recommending for constitution. Several factors including the feasibility of the club, how much support the AMS would be able to provide, and the degree of overlap with existing clubs' mandates were considered.
