| DOCUMENTS | 1. Code Changes 2020 Constituency election eligibility |

DESCRIPTION & RATIONALE

Clauses (l) and (m) of Article 9, which governs Constituency elections, are meant to prevent discrimination of any kind for both voters and nominees. However, most Constituencies have elected positions that represent specific groups based on year standing (ie. First Year Representative) or program. AMS Elections officials have never considered these positions, for which both candidates and voters are restricted based on affiliation with that year or program, to be in contravention of Code. It has been understood that these positions follow the spirit, if not the exact letter of the law. Therefore, to bring the wording of the clauses into line with longstanding AMS Elections official interpretation, they should specify that these rules apply within the bounds of representation.
